FOR PRESIDENT IN 1888,

JAMES G. BLAINE, OF MAINE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican National Convention.

"We always have the American flag above us and not below us."—James G. Blaine.

Ex-U. S. Surveyor General of Nevada, C. C. Powning, claims over thirty thousand acres of Nevada land which he tried to get his fins on while he was holding an office of public trust. It has been suggested to him that he file non-mineral affidavits on the same, but as yet he declines to do so. It might materially aid Nevada's Land Agent in his duties at Washington, if Powning would comply with the requirements of the U. S. Land Office.—Professor Young in Gazette.

The U. S. Land office has not asked of Powning any affidavit of mineral or non-mineral land. The State Land Office has requested the filing of non-mineral lands, but as the Government has withdrawn the land until the question whether it was ever properly surveyed shall be decided, there is no hurry about filing non-mineral or mineral affidavits. Powning does not wish any aid from Nevada's Land Agent about any land he may claim. The Land Agent would be kept busy if he was at Washington devoting himself to the interests of the persons who do need his aid. Prof. Young should be a Washington attending to the duties of his position, or resign his office. The State is not paying him a $1,000 a year to play with the place. Go to Washington, Professor, and earn your salary, and come back with your report, "mighty interesting reading" though it be, whether it suits all or not. As long as it shall be the truth no one can object to it. If Powning is not entitled to any land, he won't get it, and he won't deserve to have it. And then anybody else can have it that wants it. Meantime Professor go to Washington and serve the State to the best of your ability.

If, however, the Professor would be materially aided in the discharge of his duties, Powning will file the affidavits requested so that the Professor can take them along to Washington by to-morrow morning's train.

The large volume of travel to this coast this season is pretty generally known, but its amount can be known only when the various railroads make their monthly reports. A short time ago the representative of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road estimated the number of passengers brought to this coast by his line during November to be at least 10,000. Now the Southern Pacific Company comes forward with its report, which has been carefully prepared from its records. It shows that 10,294 persons arrived on this coast by its lines, making over 20,000 arrivals during November.

De Courcy M. Goodsell, a real estate dealer in San Francisco for the past eighteen years, while being examined for a juror in the McCord case, said: "Don't believe that a man who has money can be convicted by a San Francisco jury, and if he has no money he will be convicted anyway. That is my opinion of jurors. (Laughter.) Don't read much in newspapers. Don't think they are reliable. (Laughter.)"

The Washington correspondent of the New York Mail and Express says concerning Cleveland's message, that it had been in course of preparation all Summer; Cleveland had begun to formulate it before he went on his western tour; that he talked with leading members of his party about it and some of it was gotten up with Speaker Carlisle while Cleveland sat on the porch of the Summer home of the latter.

Secretary Fairchild recommends that the salary of the Assistant Treasurer at San Francisco be increased to $5,000 per annum, and the salaries of the Assistant Treasurers at Chicago, New Orleans and St. Louis to $5,000 each.

Lamar, in retiring from the Interior Department, leaves a number of vacancies, including that of the Chief Clerkship, the Private Secretary to the Secretary, and the Chief of the Stationary Division.

Sleeping-car berths from Omaha and Council Bluffs to Los Angeles, Cal., on the Union Pacific, are now sold at $12.50; the old rate was $14. The rate to San Francisco is unchanged.

The Republican National Committee selected Chicago as the place and the 19th of June as the time of holding the Convention next year. Blaine and Alger will be the ticket.

Protection to American industry and enterprise.

NEVADA'S RESOURCES.

The Silver State correctly remarks:

General Alexander has prepared a circular letter and addressed it to all the newspapers and prominent miners, farmers, stockmen and business men generally of the State, his object being to obtain reliable information as to the varied resources of Nevada, for the purpose of inducing capital to invest here. His purpose being laudable and designed to benefit every interest, everybody should make an honest endeavor to furnish him the desired information. Nevada has vast mining and agricultural resources, but save in exceptional cases, capital is required to develop them. The hundreds of millions produced from its mines have been lavished outside the State, for, until within a comparatively recent date, Nevada was looked upon only as a good place to make money and then move away from. Now it is demonstrated that its soil, which was looked upon as worthless, is as fertile as any on the continent and capable, where water can be had for irrigation, of producing in abundance all the cereals, fruits and vegetables of the temperate zone. Its climate is unsurpassed for healthfulness and is rarely excessively hot or cold. The fevers so prevalent in many States are unknown here, and the lung diseases of New England are not generated in this atmosphere. Its mineral resources are unequalled in richness and extent and with the improved methods of reducing ores, now being invented, many gold and silver bearing leads heretofore considered valueless can be profitably worked. Capital is abundant in the East and seeking investment in less promising enterprises than Nevada affords, but that fact must be made apparent to the moneyed men of the country. To do this the products and resources of every section should be given all the publicity possible, and as that is the object of General Alexander's inquiry, he should receive all the data that can be furnished from every mining camp, agricultural valley and stock range in the State.

STATE LAND AGENT.

The Winnemucca Silver State remarks: The Carson Appeal thinks Professor Young, of the Reno Gazette, should be in Washington attending to the duties of Land Agent for Nevada. This is one of the instances in which the Appeal's ideas are correct. Mr. Young was appointed Land Agent for Nevada by Governor Stevenson. The salary of the office is $1,000 a year, which is not enough to remunerate Mr. Young for spending his time in Washington attending to the land interest of Nevada, but which is $1,000 a year more than he should receive from the State for attending to his own affairs.

There seems to be no reason for appointing a Land Agent for Nevada at Washington, except to provide a political pet of the party which happens to be in power in the State with $1,000 a year from the State Treasury. The State has two Senators and a Representative at Washington, who receive fair salaries for attending to its interests. It is, in fact, the most, if not the best, represented State in the Union, and the appointment of a special agent to attend to a matter which should be seen to by our Representatives, implies a want of confidence in the ability.

AMERICANISM.

The Walker Lake Bulletin says:

The Republican party of Nevada sees that old national issues have been fought to a conclusion. It realizes that on the present line of division the only contest is over the distribution of offices. Recognizing one great national danger which at present over-shadows all trifling local or personal interests, is the increasing inroad of strangers with strange and murderous theories, with need for employment where it is already scarce and with greed for land which should be saved for those who are here, the Republicans of Nevada will take the lead in the assertion of its well known character. It being the party of progress ever ready to take up and contend for those interests which are vital to the people, will declare itself in favor of a repeal of the naturalization laws and a restriction of emigration. It will declare that all acquired rights shall be faithfully protected, but that in its opinion the time is past when this country can afford to throw its benefits and privileges away under the guise of charity. It will declare that the present domain should be reserved for those who are here, and that the workmen now in this country shall no longer be obliged to compete with the overflow from either Europe or Asia.

James G. Blaine says:

It is remarkable that President Polk recommended the tariff of 1846 on precisely the same ground that President Cleveland recommends a similar enactment now, namely, the surplus in the Treasury was menacing the prosperity of the country. History is repeating itself.

"By the way," Mr. Blaine added, after a moment's reflection, "It is worth noting that Polk, on emptying the Treasury by a Free trade tariff, then immediately rushed the country into debt by borrowing $150,000,000 for the Mexican War. I trust nothing may occur to repeat so disastrous a sequel to the policy recommended by Mr. Cleveland, but the uniform destiny of fate has been for fifty years past that the Democratic party, when it goes out of power, always leaves an empty Treasury, and when it returns to power it always finds a full Treasury."

The Virginia Democrats have selected Hon. James B. Barbour to succeed Riddieberger as U. S. Senator, from that State.

Blaine got there just the same even if he was on the Continent.

THE BRANCH SOLDIERS' HOME.

The Board of Managers Have Selected a Site at Santa Monica.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—A dispatch from Las Vegas, N. M., gives the information that the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteers, at a meeting held in the Phoenix Hotel Tuesday night, made their final decision of the question of the location of the Pacific branch of the Home. The place selected adjoins the town of Santa Monica, in this county, and is about fourteen miles from Los Angeles, and connected with this city by two lines of railway. The progressive citizens who took such a patriotic and zealous part in securing the location of the Home shook hands yesterday with each other whenever they met. The accepted offer was as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers:

GENTLEMEN:—We, the undersigned, respectfully offer the site hereafter described for the Branch Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, to-wit:

Six hundred acres of land in one body to be selected out of the ranches San Jose de Buenos Ayres and San Vicente at Santa Monica, without cost to the Government. Said site to be selected by you anywhere along the line dividing the said ranches in equal portions.

That portion, near the foothills on the said line, running up to the base of the mountains, would command a most magnificent view of the mountains, the valley, the city of Los Angeles and the ocean, and could not well be surpassed for beauty of location in the State of California. The land is a rich sand loam, being composed of decomposed granite and vegetable mold and makes the warmest and richest soil possible, capable of producing not only all the varieties of fruits and vegetables peculiar to the semi-tropical region, but is susceptible of being beautified and ornamented with flowers, grass and trees equal to any spot in the country. A site can be selected along the line indicated, nearly all of which is ready for the plow, there being no stones or brush to be cleared up, a portion already being under cultivation. The drainage is excellent, and the sewerage can be made as nearly perfect as in any location that would be named.

The distance from the city of Los Angeles is about fourteen miles in a westerly direction, and from the Pacific Ocean at Santa Monica about four miles distant, and nearly on a direct line between the two points. The Los Angeles County Railroad, which is now graded nearly the whole distance from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, will run through the tract offered and a station would be located to accommodate the Home. This road also offers in connection with this proposal to carry all inmates and officers of the Home at half fare, and to transport all supplies for the Home and all merchandise to and from the Home at half the regular rates, and offers to run hourly trains from the city of Los Angeles to the sea; and it may be further stated that the present railroad between Los Angeles and Santa Monica runs within a few rods of the southerly end of the strip which is hereby offered to have the tract of land taken, and the station is located about the nearest point on this road.

In addition to the foregoing offer of land in one body, five acres of water-bearing land is offered at a convenient distance from the main tract, with springs of flowing water of sufficient capacity to furnish 350,000 to 500,000 gallons daily; also, a reservoir site of such elevation as to command the most perfect service. Near the proposed site is a quarry of excellent sand-stone for building purposes, and a quarry of fine granite within four miles, and most excellent brick-clay land near by, thus bringing within easy access the various kinds of building material. In point of climate, it is generally conceded that the foothill region of the Cabuenga mountains, from four to ten miles back from the Pacific Ocean, has no superior, even in any portion of the favored land of Southern California.

It is a well-known fact that it has immunity from frosts as to be able to uniformly produce for the general markets tomatoes and other tender garden plants in the months of December, January and February, and the same causes that ward off the frosts give to this locality also immunity from fogs, while its nearness to the ocean secures for it a breeze, not harsh, but delightfully cool and refreshing, every Summer's day, so that a Home located on the spot offered will be a delightful and genial resting place in Winter as well as Summer for the veterans who may gather together there, not equalled in any respect by any other Home in the whole country.

In conclusion, we would state that the land hereby offered is reasonably worth on an average $100 per acre, or $250,000 for the entire tract, aside from the additional offers made by other parties as above mentioned.

Very respectfully, yours, John P. Jones, by Walter Van Dyke, his attorney in fact; Arcadia B. D. Baker, by her attorney in fact; Robert Baker of the Los Angeles and Santa Monica Land and Water Company, by E. E. Neall, Secretary.

We, the undersigned, acting as trustees, hereby agree, in addition to the above, to donate $50,000, payable in yearly installments of $10,000, to be applied to the improvement of the grounds. E. E. Hall, S. W. Lieutweiler, F. C. Garbet, Trustees.

Mr. Blaine shows that the total export and import made of the country is considerably less than $2,000,000,000 annually, while the local or domestic commerce reaches the enormous aggregate of from $40,000,000,000 to $50,000,000,000. Then he quietly asks the farmers if they can afford to chase after the phantom of foreign trade or ignore this vast market at home.

A PROTEST.

Cleveland's Suggestions Disappoint the Wool-growers.

At Tuesday's session of the conference of wool-growers and wool-dealers of the United States, held in Washington, the following was unanimously adopted:

"The wool-dealers and wool-growers of the United States, representing a capital of over five hundred million dollars and a constituency of a million wool-growers and wool-dealers, assembled in conference, have read the first annual message of the President to the Fiftyth Congress and declare that the sentiment of the message is a direct attack upon their industry, one of the most important of the country, and in a positive violation of the National Democratic platform of 1884, as interpreted by party leaders and accepted by the rank and file of the party; that the argument by the President for the removal of our protection against foreign competition is one repeatedly made by the enemies of our industrial progress, and effectively answered in every school district of our land, and thoroughly disproved by the logic of facts and demonstration of experience. We had a right to expect something different from the Chief Executive of the nation, the most happy, prosperous and contented of any of the world, made so by the policy of protection and the development he now seeks to destroy. We had a right to expect our President would favor the wool-growers of the United States, and confess our deep disappointment as, instead, he favors the interests of our foreign competitors. We make an appeal from his recommendation to the seven and three-fourths millions of our fellow-citizens engaged in agriculture, to the millions engaged in manufacturing, to the army of wage-earners, to the tradesmen and merchants, that the judgment and decision will be based upon justice and patriotism, and, therefore, for the maintenance of the American policy of protection, to which the country is indebted for its unexampled development and prosperity.

"If the whole amount of revenue derived from wool was abolished it would reduce the surplus only about $5,000,000, or less than 10 cents per capita of the population, which is paid by foreigners, while the old war taxes he recommends be retained yield over $119,000,000, and are a direct tax per capita of $2 each.

"The total revenue derived from the imports on wool under the tariff of 1887 was less than $1,700,000; under the reduced tariff of 1883 the revenue last year was only $5,000,000. The number of sheep in the country in 1881 was 50,626,626, in 1887 44,759,314, a decrease of nearly 6,000,000, and the diminution of the annual wool product is over 35,000,000 pounds, thus showing that the reduction of the tariff by the Act of 1883 had increased the revenue from imported wools and diminished the number of sheep in the United States about 12 per cent. The President's policy would bring about the destruction of this industry, and the same policy of reduction or abolition of the tariff would end in disaster to all other industrial productive enterprises of the country."

A BRIGHT OUTLOOK.

Prospects of the Republican Party at the Next Election.

WASHINGTON, December 8.—The Republican National Committee was called to order at the Arlington Hotel at 11 o'clock, by Chairman Jones, who briefly stated that the purpose of the meeting was to select a time and place for holding the next National Convention of the party. He said:

We may congratulate ourselves upon the improved prospects of the Republican party since the National Committee met in this city four years ago for the same purpose that we are now assembled. At that time the majority against the Republican party in the North at the last preceding State elections counted up into the hundreds of thousands. Though by accident the Democratic party have the Presidency and prestige of success, the signs are auspicious for the election of a Republican President in 1888.

The momentum acquired by twenty-five years prevalence of Republican principles has not yet lost its force, and the material interests of the country are still prosperous, as a result of Republican industrial legislation.

Recent utterances, however, indicate a determination to end this prosperity by adverse legislation forced upon the country by an Administration hostile to American industry, and also indicates the necessity of the return to power of the Republican party in the National Government, so that American industry, wool-growing and sugar-raising, equally with iron-making and textile production, may have continued prosperity, and the employees in these industries constant employment and continued good wages, such as American workmen should receive.

The roll was then called and every State and Territory with one or two exceptions was represented by a delegate or proxy.

A Rush For Seats Already.

Almost as soon as Chicago had been chosen as the place for holding the Republican Convention the hotels were in receipt of telegrams from many of the committee asking that apartments be reserved for them. J. C. Chaffee and W. A. Hamill, representing the Colorado delegation, wired for the same rooms as were given them for the last convention. The Ohio delegation, represented by A. L. Conger, telegraphed for rooms. The Pennsylvania people, represented by Chris. L. Magee, desired ten rooms, and many leading papers in New York, Baltimore and Cincinnati have engaged rooms.
